EXHIBITION TOUR FEES

GUIDED TOUR FEES Guided tours with a Goldstein Museum of Design (GMD) staff member are available to groups with no less than 5 and no more than 40 people. Tours are designed to initiate dialogue about ideas raised by the exhibition topics. Depending on the age group, a museum tour lasts approximately 30 to 40 minutes. PK-12 student groups must have one chaperone for every ten students. Chaperones and teachers are free.

- College of Design students – free
- Students PK-12, $1 per person
- Non-University of Minnesota college students and seniors, $3 per person
- Adults, FGMD members $4, non-members $5 per person

Because the gallery is not large, groups over 20 will be split into two groups with one touring the Research Center, while the other tours the exhibition.

SELF-GUIDED TOURS Groups are welcome to explore the Museum's exhibitions on their own or with an outside educator. Self-guided tours must take place during GMD’s public hours. There is no time limit for self-guided groups.
